SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE HERALD. ALBANY, Jan. 30, 1887.

The sessions of the Senate and Assembly were not marked by any important legislation this morning. In the former a debate occurred on general excise matters, and Senator Tom Murphy gave notice of a bill for an underground railroad in New York city, to be in accordance with the suggestions of the special committee of the Senate on that subject appointed by the last Legislature.

In the Assembly nearly the whole session was taken up with three matters—alleged neglect of that much abused functionary, the public printer; the report of the Committee on Rules, and the resolution of Mr. Crozier respecting the cleaning of the streets of New York. The printer was assailed by Messrs. Mills, Laing and Littlejohn for alleged irregularity in printing the proceedings of the Assembly, without regard to the Legislative chronology. Mr. Mills proposed the appointment of an investigating committee on the subject, and Mr. Littlejohn urged the propriety of inquiring into the necessity of appointing a new party to do the public printing. Both propositions were adopted by the House.

Some of the members of the Assembly, by a motion made by Crozier, of New York, to take from the table his resolution relative to the cleaning of the streets of New York. Mr. Crozier made a speech in which he accused Judge Whiting of neglecting to do his duty in accordance with the letter of his contract. The streets, he said, were in a filthy condition, and no effort was being made to clean them, although the contractor regularly drew his compensation from the city treasury. Mr. Crozier said that he had been in New York for many years, and that he had never seen the streets so filthy as they were now. He said that he had been in New York for many years, and that he had never seen the streets so filthy as they were now. He said that he had been in New York for many years, and that he had never seen the streets so filthy as they were now.
